Trump's greatest betrayal so far: Accelerating Middle East wars, silencing dissent, and serving Zionist masters

- Donald Trump, supposedly the "peace president," was elected on promises of ending "stupid wars."

- However, he has instead escalated U.S. military aggression in the Middle East – turning his back on his campaign promise.

- Trump's administration is actively suppressing free speech, deporting protesters, and aligning with Israel's genocidal campaign in Gaza.

- Evangelical support for Trump remains unwavering, blinded by Zionist eschatology that justifies any atrocity in the name of biblical prophecy.

- Trump's recent bombing of Yemen signals a dangerous expansion toward war with Iran, orchestrated by Netanyahu and the Zionist power structure.

Within weeks of taking office, President Donald Trump has shattered his campaign facade as a "peace president," revealing himself as yet another puppet of the Zionist war machine. While he may posture as a negotiator in Ukraine, his actions in the Middle East expose a far darker agenda—one that prioritizes Israel's imperial ambitions over American lives, global stability, and basic human decency.

Trump’s war on free speech: silencing critics of Israel

Trump’s administration has weaponized federal power to crush dissent against Israel’s brutal occupation of Palestine. Judge Andrew Napolitano and Professor John Mearsheimer recently exposed the chilling reality: "The single greatest threat to freedom of speech in the United States, at this point in time, is Israel and its supporters here in the United States," Mearsheimer stated.

Despite Trump’s hollow claim—"I have stopped all government censorship and brought back free speech in America"—his regime has intensified crackdowns on pro-Palestinian voices. Protesters face deportation, universities censor criticism of Israel, and any challenge to Zionist narratives is met with state-sanctioned retaliation.

The puppet and the puppeteer: Trump’s subservience to Netanyahu

Trump’s fealty to Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu is not just political—it’s pathological. As Colonel Douglas Macgregor bluntly observed, "Netanyahu is practicing American foreign policy through ventriloquy. He’s simply moving Trump’s mouth."

George Galloway highlighted Trump’s humiliating subservience, recalling footage of the U.S. president pulling out Netanyahu’s chair like a servant. "This is the president of the United States practically waiting at table on a visiting politician," Galloway remarked, emphasizing the grotesque power imbalance.

Netanyahu does not merely lead Israel—he commands "Jewish international power and capital," as Macgregor noted. Trump, indebted to this influence for his election, now repays the favor with bombs, sanctions, and unconditional support for Israel’s genocide in Gaza.

From Gaza to Yemen: Trump’s expanding middle east slaughter

Trump’s betrayal is most evident in his military escalation. After cynically criticizing Biden’s bombings, Trump has launched devastating strikes on Yemen, killing civilians under the pretense of protecting Red Sea shipping—a crisis manufactured by Israel’s blockade of Gaza.

Dr. Ron Paul condemned the hypocrisy: "Was Yemen in the process of attacking the United States? No. Did the President seek a declaration of war? No." Instead, Trump’s bombs rained down on women and children, while his administration threatened Iran—a deliberate provocation toward World War III.

Max Blumenthal summarized Trump’s role succinctly: "Trump owns the Gazan slaughter." The same man who promised peace now fuels a regional inferno, with Israel’s interests dictating every move.

Evangelical delusion: the cult of Zionist eschatology

Why do evangelicals still worship Trump, despite his warmongering? The answer lies in Prophetic Dispensationalism—a theological cancer that twists scripture to justify Zionist crimes. Many pastors cite Genesis 12:3 ("I will bless those who bless you") as a blank check for Israeli atrocities, while ignoring Christ's teachings on mercy and justice.

As one former pastor lamented, "If a Christian was a 'soulwinner,' God would 'hide' his sins—no matter how vile." This warped logic now shields Trump, whose sins—mass deportations, censorship, and mass murder—are excused so long as he bows to Netanyahu.

Will Trump become America's Titus?

History offers a grim parallel: In 70 AD, Roman Emperor Titus destroyed Jerusalem, scattering the Jewish people. Today, Trump—unwittingly or not—may be the instrument of Zionism's downfall. Even Alan Dershowitz admits: "Israel's survival is not guaranteed."

Will evangelical voters, who propelled Trump to power, realize too late that they've enabled a monster? Or will they continue cheering as he drags the world toward Armageddon—all for a theology built on bloodshed and lies?

Israel's desperate actions in the Middle East can no longer be considered "self defense" - and stating this truth isn't "antisemitic." What we are witnessing in real time is the fall of the current regime in Israel, and no amount of Biblical prophecy and right-wing religious bloviating can justify what America is encouraging, supporting with pallets of cash, bombs and relentless arms.

One day, the children of Gaza who survive to adulthood will look back at this time in world history, and remember an America, hiding behind its walls of luxury, cheering on the destruction of the Palestinian people and all the other peoples who were dehumanized and brutalized throughout the Middle East. The future is bleak - not just for Israel - but also for America and all the other puppet governments and religious useful idiots who went along with the devastation and sweeping massacres.

Hamas started it; unless you think that those were Israelis that parachuted into Israel, to kill and capture their own citizens. Remember, there are still American citizens held hostage. I can't understand why you support Hamas.
